

CENTRAL PENN COLLEGE KNIGHTS

2019-2020 WINTER MEDIA GUIDE

- Dr. Linda Fedrizzi-Williams,
Central Penn College's 10th President

Our tradition of preparing students for careers and advancement, in their fields of study, is more relevant now than it ever has been. So is the need to provide opportunities to our students.

For my part, I pledge to do all that I can, to make Central Penn College a remarkable institution that proves to be a game changer for anyone who wants to complete their degree here. Together, we will continue to share with the rest of the world, the true greatness that is Central Penn College!

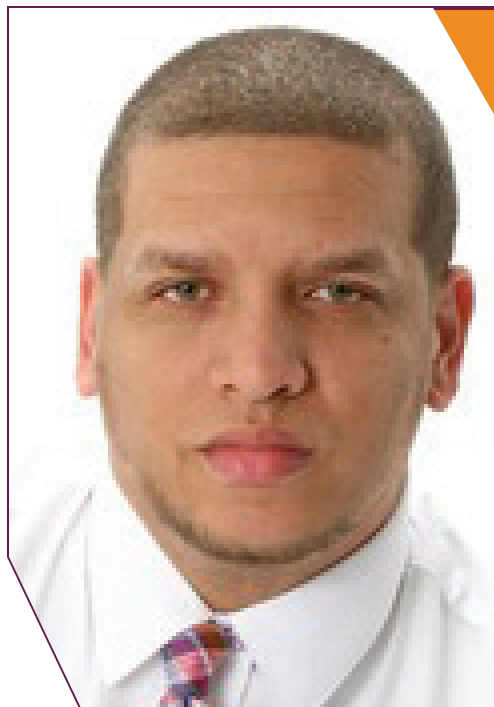

Thank You

The East Pennsboro community is a huge part of the success of the Central Penn College basketball program! Whether you have joined the KABC, hung a banner or have shown your support through the Media Guide or our fundraisers. We thank you.

We love seeing you at the games and knowing you follow us online or through our social media when you can't make it to the game. For more information, please visit www.knightsathleticsfund.com If you would like to be in next years Media Guide or have a question or idea for Knights Athletics, please email us at cpc_support@knightsathleticsfund.com

We welcome your suggestions!

DAVID ARCHER
MEN'S HEAD COACH

David Archer is coming into his 4th season with the Knights program. Under Archer's leadership the Knights have qualified for the USCAA National Tournament every season.

This won't be the first time Archer has called himself a Knight. Archer also played for the men's basketball team in 2001 before transferring to Elizabethtown College. Archer earned his Bachelor of Professional Studies in Criminal Justice from Elizabethtown College, and his Master of Professional Studies in Organizational Leadership from Central Penn College. He also has coached at HGI Academy, New Hope Academy Charter School, Pine Grove Area High School, Penn State University Harrisburg and Bishop McDevitt High School.

Let's go Knights!

Dear Knight Nation,

On behalf of Central Penn College and our student athletes, I want to extend a big "Thank You" for all of the support and dedication you have shown to our programs.

Athletics at Central Penn are geared to complement our academic programs, and we believe that they are a vital part of the educational process and student experience.

My goal as Athletic Director is to engage students in a positive, life-changing experience through athletics. The everyday challenges in competition can bring out one's true character and exemplify the importance of teamwork. This is something we desire to instill in our athletes, as it helps benefit their educational endeavors and enables them to achieve greater success in their future careers.

Our student athletes truly embrace what it means to be a Central Penn Knight! I couldn't be prouder of our athletes and their ability to balance classes, work personal obligations and athletic responsibilities to represent our institution. If you think you have what it takes to become a Knight, please complete the recruiting form at centralpennknights.com or email my office at Athletics@centralpenn.edu.

I look forward to seeing the support of our sports teams at Central Penn continue to grow. I encourage you to get out and cheer on our student athletes. They represent the best of our community and what it truly means to a part of the Central Penn College family.

As always, Go Knights!

Hawthorne

Kasey Hicks, Athletic Director
Central Penn College

The expectations for this year are high. The confidence in this team exudes through their practice and the way they play. I am excited to see this team come together and achieve all the goals we have set for this season. Following in the steps of Kasey Hicks, respect and effort are two key components in whether we will accomplish those goals. We as a team also want to get involved into the community by volunteering our time to help grow a sense of togetherness on and off the court.

CLUBS & ACTIVITIES

DEVELOP LEADERSHIP SKILLS OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM.

Central Penn's small size makes it possible for everyone to participate in student clubs. Students find that getting involved helps to develop leadership skills and it looks great on a resume. With the various clubs Central Penn offers, students are sure to find something that will suit their interest. Don't see the club you were hoping for? Interested students can form their own club though the Student Government Association's approval process.

If you have a question about any clubs or activities at Central Penn College, please contact our Activities Director at AdrienneThoman@CentralPenn.edu.
